

TRANSFORM YOUR FUTURE WITH SHEFFIELD HALLAM UNIVERSITY'S MBA at BOTSWANA ACCOUNTANCY COLLEGE (BAC)

The Sheffield Hallam University MBA is designed to give you the skills, knowledge and experience to advance your career into organizational management. It is tailored around you and your individual development, ensuring that you graduate with the skills and confidence to become an agile and resilient leader for the future global challenges.

The prestigious Sheffield Hallam University MBA is unique;

Critical self-awareness and tailored coaching

The programme provides an opportunity at the beginning of the course to complete psychometric and emotional capital testing which increases your critical self-awareness, better understand your skills and identify areas for development. You then work with an expert mentor to design a personal development programme.

Your Leadership and Management Skills

To be a successful leader you need to understand, implement and integrate the current fundamental concepts of business, and have insights from differing professional perspectives. You gain this knowledge on our course by studying core MBA subjects within four integrated modules.

Completing an integrated module means that instead of studying finance or globalisation in isolation, you study finance together with globalization, marketing and decision making. Our approach replicates the real world where strategic decisions will span multiple business areas, providing you with a richer and more realistic learning experience.

You also complete a consultancy project that involves investigating a real issue from within an organization

Tailor your learning to a workplace

We tailor assignments and projects to the needs of an organization or your own area of interest which maximizes the value of your studies. The organization also has an opportunity to provide input into your learning and contribute to your development.

Teaching Boardroom Style

The course delivery uses a unique boardroom style approach that assists in preparing the learner for the future in operating at this level by placing them into an environment that they will require to be comfortable with.

Modules

Managing Strategy

The module explores the theory of strategic management and financial concepts, in a range of industries, organisational and global contexts. You will develop the critical, theoretical and practical skills to examine past strategies and current positions, and develop proposals on how organisations might develop in the future with consideration of the global business environment.

Strategic Marketing Management and Decision Making

This module will help you to understand what it means to be a marketing oriented organisation and how to develop marketing strategies that meet corporate objectives and deliver sustainable competitive advantage.

Strategic Global HRM and Decision making

This module is designed to enhance your knowledge and develop your understanding of organisational behaviour and human resource management theory and practice. It will develop and expand your knowledge and perspective of the complexity of the interrelationships between people, organisations and the environment, in the contexts of contemporary international organisations.

Managing Financial Resources

This module explores the complexity of financial management. It aims to develop the critical, theoretical and practical skills so that students can understand the problems of managing finance in complex organisations in both the private and public sectors. Students identify the problems of financial management and the financial solutions available to minimise risk and maximise performance in such organisations.

Business Operations and Process Management

In most organisations, business operations make up around 80% of all activities. This module explores the theory of business operations and process management using a range of organisational contexts in a broad range of industries. You will develop the critical, theoretical and practical skills to be able to fully position the role of business operations and process management in the contemporary organisation. You will also be able to appreciate how they directly impact on the financial position and profitability of an organisation and how they are determined by and will influence organisational strategy.

Leadership and Managing Change

This module will develop and expand your knowledge and understanding of the complexity of leadership and change, through real world diagnosis and application, and awareness of the diverse spectrum of related concepts, models and theories.

Developing Personal and professional Leadership

This module will help you to develop and enhance the qualities and transferrable skills necessary for your studies, career progression, professional and personal development. You will develop and practice the skills required to critically reflect on learning and on your ability to apply learning to real world complex issues within the work place; citing actions and barriers to implementation.

Strategic Project Management

The module develops your critical understanding of strategic project management. It develops your knowledge of project management processes coupled with the ability to apply project management concepts in the life cycle of projects. It provides insights into contractual issues in relation to projects, including management of the contracting process and contract performance.
